The crowd opens with Aunt Polly crossing the fence in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom runs out dramatically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects carefully on Tom's mischief and how she lets him get away with his work.

Tom crosses fence at supper time. During supper, Aunt Polly discovers and vents frustration. Her coffee is still warm from the hot fat, Tom's half brother, that himself to discipline her.

Tom goes out of the fence to enjoy the streets of St. Petersburg. Tom and the gang spend time chasing the grasshopper all the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his disheveled clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, in punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Tom passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a "white ally," a kind of wafer. Tom almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his labor.

The early history of the automobile can be divided into a number of eras, based on the prevalent means of propulsion. Later periods were defined by trends in exterior styling, size, and utility preferences. In 1769 the first steam-powered automobile capable of human transportation was built by Nicolas-Joseph Cugnot.. In 1808, François Isaac de Rivaz designed the first car powered by an ...

Great looking car with GM's best FWD drivetrain... but that's about all I can say about it. It didn't handle any better than it's Buick & Olds cousins, the very plasticity & grey Pontiac switchgear just yelled cheapness, and even me at 6' tall seemed to think the dashboard was unusually high or the seat was low.
