Early life. Clara Barton was born on December 25, 1821, in North Oxford, Massachusetts. Her father was Captain Stephen Barton, a member of the local militia and a selectman who inspired his daughter with patriotism and a broad humanitarian interest. He was a soldier under the command of General Anthony Wayne in his crusade against the Indians in the northwest.

The English language was first introduced to the Americas by British colonization, beginning in the late 16th and early 17th centuries. The language also spread to numerous other parts of the world as a result of British trade and colonisation and the spread of the former British Empire, which, by 1921, included about 470–570 million people, about a quarter of the world's population.

The process of developing literacy skills is fairly well known. First we learn sounds, then letters, then how the letters and sounds make words...and along the way we learn what it all means and how to make sense of our written language. Literacy skills are very important in school (and in life): the stronger that [...]
