

Owning And Training A Male Slave By Ingrid Bellemare

The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects ruefully on Tom's mischief and how she lets him get away with too much.

The novel opens with Aunt Polly arriving the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom runs out theatrically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects carefully on Tom's mischief and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper time. During supper, Aunt Polly tells Tom about his afternoon and what happened. Tom's collar is still wet from the jam, but he says, "I'm a bad boy, but I'm a good boy, too." Aunt Polly is satisfied, but Tom has sworn the devil himself to discipline him.

Tom goes out of the house to play. He is walking the streets of St. Petersburg. He and the new arrival encounter a cat and a dog. Tom chooses the cat because it is the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirty clothes and decides to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Tom goes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a "white alley," a kind of excuse. Tom almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his labor.

Weight-training for men as they age does become more challenging. The joints aren't as limber, the risk of nagging pain and injuries increases, and stamina can often diminish. It can be difficult for a man at 60 to begin a weight-training program, especially if that man hasn't lifted in a long time, or at all.

There are many pack leader activities you can use as part of a daily training routine. Probably the single most important command your dog can learn is "sit." You can incorporate "sit" into everyday situations as a reminder that you are in charge of things. Tell your dog to "sit" before you feed him, before you play, before he goes out the door.
