Fashion in the period 1795–1820 in European and European-influenced countries saw the final triumph of undress or informal styles over the brocades, lace, periwigs and powder of the earlier 18th century. In the aftermath of the French Revolution, no one wanted to appear to be a member of the French aristocracy, and people began using clothing more as a form of individual expression of the ...

TERMS for REGENCY FABRICS are confusing because some names have gone out of fashion completely and are mysterious to the modern ear, while other names we still use today meant something rather different in 1800. In addition, most of the names themselves are old corruptions of foreign place names - places where the fabrics might or might not have originated, but either way it added a romantic ...
