Finally! Nancy Duarte, the Principle of Duarte Design (the firm behind the creation of Al Gore's Oscar-winning presentations), has published a presentation book for the rest of us.It's called Slide:ology: The Art and Science of Creating Great Presentations. Slide:ology is practical, it's highly visual, and it's beautiful. I love this book. Slide:ology should come bundled with every copy of ...

64 slide:ology Following the Five Data Slide Rules When it comes to displaying data in your presentation, you must adhere to one principle above all others: clarity. Projecting your data on a slide puts you at an immediate disadvantage to printing it in a white paper or scientific text. In a presentation, the audience doesn't have the benefit of

THE ART AND SCIENCE OF CREATING GREAT PRESENTATIONS - Duarte

There's an art and science to creating great presentation slides and Slide:ology gives you insight into both. When making presentations, you need to think visually. However, most organizations don't train people in thinking like a designer and we certainly don't learn visual language in school the way we learn written language.

When several slides in a row have charts, line up the axes of the charts from slide to slide to avoid content that jumps around. Always start your first data set for a pie chart at the 12 o'clock position. Limit a pie chart to eight sections. More is too many to differentiate on a slide. Percentages on a pie chart must add up to 100%
