The next morning, though, he found the stone sitting on the window sill. Now Maibon's baby was having trouble. He was cranky from teething, but no tooth was to be seen! Maibon's wife begged her husband to get rid of the stone. This time, Maibon dug a shallow hole and put the stone into it. But the next day the stone sat glittering<sup>2</sup> above the ground.

Please note that whilst we make every effort to be accurate in our identification of building stone types we cannot guarantee 100% levels of certainty. Even geologists are fallible! The purpose of our study is to identify the stone used in historic buildings while exploring the County and enjoying ourselves immensely!

"The Benben Stone was seen as the solidified Seed of Atum, the Stone of Creation. It was on this stone that the Phoenix or Benu Bird would return every 12.594 years and place its new Egg. At that moment a new Era of Mankind was started. The Benu Bird came from the 'Isle of Fire', the mythical place where the gods were born"
